InnerContinental

Founded by Jill Ettinger & Derek Beres, two industry professionals (one entrenched in the Natural Products Industry for 15 years, the other a leading international music journalist and DJ), this site is dedicated to exploring and exposing trends in nutrition and music on a global level. Each story has to do with what we put inside of us. It is well known that what goes in is processed and transformed into what we put out. By offering important and timely information on the tastes and sounds of the planet, InnerContinental documents the future of these industries as they happen now.
